Dear Sir,

Further to your e-mail regarding the above, which was received on 27th June 2014, I can confirm that given that the works essentially involve a large scale repair to the War Memorial, planning permission will not be required. Listed Building Consent would normally be necessary but given the location of the structure, evidently this is subject to ecclesiastical exemption.

Attached below for your information is the response of the Council's Conservation consultee.

Hope this information proves useful.

Kind Regards,

Mike,

I have had a look through the schedule of works etc and it all looks fine to me. I think the dismantling of the structure to allow for the work to be undertaken is proportionate given the overall form of the structure, as well as the safeguarding of the existing fabric. I don't seem to be able to see where the new masonry has been sourced from in order to achieve a good match? I've noted that the cleaning of the masonry will be subject to a further method statement which is fine, though the overall principle seems fine where only the worst soiled areas will be done.

Feel free to forward my details so that they can contact me directly.

Ben

On the ESBC website I can find no reference to a Conservation Officer or War Memorials Officer in the Planning Department nor any way to contact the Planning Department directly, so I would be grateful if you could pass this query on to the relevant person or department.

The Stone Cross War Memorial at St. Mary's Priory Church, Tutbury is in need of extensive preservation work, to the extent that it will need to be mostly dismantled and then rebuilt.

We have had a professional assessment done by Smith and Roper, Conservation Architects, of Bakewell and their Condition Survey, Specification of Works & Materials, Structural Survey report and plan diagrams can be read on our website here.

We will be raising a Faculty via the church for permission to do the work. We will also be sending a copy of the Faculty to English Heritage as the Memorial is in the curtilage of the Grade I Listed church.

The Memorial is of course in the Tutbury Conservation Area so we need to understand what process we need to go through obtain permission from ESBC.

We would appreciate it if you could advise us what we need to do Best regards
